

Summer Solstice Celebration

Celebrate the Summer Solstice with wine, music, and a light buffet supper on the lawn of the Lyme Art Association, Saturday evening, June 22 from 5-8pm. During the celebration, the LAA will hold a silent auction of art works painted in Old Lyme during Summer Solstice 2002. All proceeds from the Solstice Celebration will fund the restoration of the 1921 skylights, a signature of the Charles Platt design for the Lyme Art Association.

The auction will start at 5 pm and all bidding will close at 6:30 pm in the Cooper/Ferry Gallery, 7:00 pm in the South Gallery and 7:30 pm in the Cole Gallery. Payment will be required at close of bid. Artists will donate other framed paintings to the auction as well. An artist's easel, valued at $1200, a Charles Gruppe painting, art books, and artists' materials will be won through a raffle that evening.

Over fifty New England artists will be painting in Old Lyme from June 17 through June 19. The artists will be working from 1 to 5 pm to capture the unique light and shadow of the summer solstice. Visitors are welcome to watch the artists as they work from models and landscapes throughout the Solstice festival.

You will find artists painting on the lawn of the Lyme Art Association, the Bee and Thistle Inn, Old Lyme Congregational Church, along Lyme Street, and on the banks of the Duck River.
